VISION'S VALUE.

Good vision is a commodity you cannot purchase. If your eyesight is not perfect, you should make every effort to improve it. Glasses may be a necessity; but this is a question you cannot decide for yourself. The advice of a Skilled Sight-Testing Optician is required. Our scientific Eye-Testing is thorough and we can detect the cause of the eye trouble or the slightest defect of vision.

POSSESSION OF POISONS.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST INDIAN.

The hearing began before Mr. E. W. Huxford at the Kowloon Magistrate's yesterday afternoon of the case in which Harkem (doctor) Karem Bux, of No. 34 Haiphong Road and the Indian Mosque, is being charged with having in his possession a quantity of poison, and practising as a doctor without being registered.

The case for the Crown was conducted by Mr. T. S. Whyte-Smith while Mr. Easley Zeitlyn (instructed by Messrs. Diacons) appeared for the defence.

Opening his case Mr. Whyte-Smith said that evidence would be produced to show that the defendant resided at the Indian Mosque in Nathan Road and there gave medical advice, charging for his services. It would also be given in evidence that he was interested in a shop at No. 34 Haiphong Road, where he appeared to have stored an additional supply of drugs.

On December 31 the police raided these two premises and in each were found a quantity of drugs contained in bottles, and a quantity of powdered medicine. These were analysed by the Government Analyst and were found to contain arsenic, opium and other poison which came under the Ordinance.

Four of the defendants, patients would say in evidence, that they were treated at his house at the Mosque. They described their symptoms to him and they were then given drugs. The defendant after providing them with the medicine charged them considerable fees. There was not much evidence as to the time he usually spent in his diagnosis. He simply felt their pulses and then prescribed.

Captain Bloxham, A.S.P., who conducted the raids at the defendant's premises, stated that at 7 p.m. on New Year's Eve, in company with Mr. Booth and other members of the Police Force he visited the quarters of Harkem Bux at the Mosque. Witness found, on arrival, that the door was shut and bolted on the inside. After knocking, it was asked if the defendant were home and replied that he had gone out.

The party of police then entered the dining room where there were found a number of boxes and suit cases, all of which were locked. The keys were demanded from the servant but he stated that the defendant was in possession of the keys to the various boxes with the exception of two, which belonged to himself. The cases were then broken open by the police and in every one of them some form of medicine or drug was found. The servant's boxes were opened but nothing incriminating was discovered.

They then went to No. 11 Austin Road, in the hope of finding the accused, but failed. An Indian Inspector was sent to the residence of Abbas Khan, who was believed to have been in possession of a key to the premises at No. 34 Haiphong Road, which place witness desired to raid. Abbas Khan informed the police that the other key was with his brother. He was given instructions to produce the key at No. 34 Haiphong Road, which he did at about 7.45 p.m. On the information of Abbas Khan and his brother, the police discovered in a locked box case a further quantity of drugs. A box containing medicine was also found under the staircase.

A return to the Mosque was then made and there the defendant was found, arrested, and taken to the Water Police Station. On the 7th and 15th January certain Indians handed witness other packets and bottles of medicine

ROBBERS' RUSE.

BIG HAUL FROM MONGKOK DWELLING.

Giving an excuse that they were workmen employed by the Electric Light Company, four men gained admittance to the third floor of No. 10 Tung Hing Road, Mongkok, occupied by a married woman named Wong Yuk, at 10.15 yesterday morning, ransacked the place and left with money and jewellery to the total value of $5,473.

On being admitted by the amah, the four men made a ten minutes' examination of the electric light fittings, and then one produced a revolver and chased Wong Yuk and the amah along a passage into a room, where they were kept prisoners. They searched the woman and relieved her of $34 in money, one pair of gold bangles set with eight pearls, valued at $1,000, a pearl neck chain with diamond pendant worth $1,000, two gold finger rings set with diamonds, valued at $500, and other jewellery valued at $300.

Not satisfied with this, they proceeded to ransack the place and on opening a trunk secured further money and valuables, including $700 in Shanghai notes, $1,400 in Hongkong notes, a gold diamond ring valued at $500 and various other articles. After being on the premises for about a quarter of an hour, the men made good their escape.

THE BIBLE STORY.

INTERESTING LECTURE.

Mr. W. Tierney, a member of the International Bible Students' Association, delivered a lecture at the Helena Institute last evening, the subject being "From Paradise Lost to Paradise Restored." The lecture was both instructive and inspiring and it is to be regretted that not more people attended; the attendance did not exceed ten people.

The lecturer took the Bible story of the Creation and evolution and dealt in a comprehensive manner the prophetic evidence from the earliest stages to the present day. The lecture throughout was illustrated by lantern slides. At the outset the lecturer explained how the earth was formed and the order of creation by God, including the coming into existence of animal life, fauna and flora and other things. The coming of Adam and Eve and all subsequent events up to the birth of Jesus Christ, familiar to all Bible readers, were dealt with interesting slides.

which were said to have come from the defendant.

Under cross examination of Mr. Zeitlyn, Captain Bloxham said that the boxes in which the various poisons had been found were not seized by the police and he was unable to say which particular bottle or packet was found in each box. The defendant's quarters were absolutely separate from the Mosque itself. It was not a place which would be used by the Indians before they entered the Mosque, but there was a small hole leading into his quarters. Witness did not see the keys hanging on the wall nor did he look. He was aware that the defendant was not permitted to go to the shop since October 10. He had also heard that there had been trouble between Abbas Khan and the defendant about the accounts of the firm.

The box which was found under the staircase was hidden from the view of any person who should enter the shop and the two Indians took the police direct to the box. After hearing further evidence the case was adjourned.

TREATY.

Peking, March 5.—Kenichi Yoshizawa, the Japanese Minister, replying to the note of the Foreign Office of February 11, says: "The right and interests, which Japan acquired in Manchuria in virtue of the Portsmouth Treaty were recognised by China in the Sino-Japanese treaty concluded in Peking in 1905, which cannot be affected by any Sino-Russian agreement or any controversy between China and Russia."

"Although by your letter you had the kindness only to inform me of your protest to Russia, I wish to convey to you the above statement, considering the time opportunity to make our position clear."
—(Signed) Yoshizawa.—Reuter.

THE CHICHUEN EPISODE.

CHINESE VERSION OF THE AFFAIR.

Peking, March 5.—The Chinese version of the Chichuen episode is contained in a note of the Wai-chiao-pu sent to the American Legation yesterday. The note reviews the circumstances under which a Chinese major and seven pey officers were drowned. It accuses Captain Hawley of having started up the engines and swamped the lighter in which they were being conveyed ashore.

The note complains that every month a similar catastrophe occurs. It requests that the American Consul at Chungking be instructed to settle the matter on a just basis and that in future steamers use more caution in order to prevent repetitions of this occurrence.—Reuter.

FLOWER SHOW.

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES.

The prizes at the Horticultural Society's show yesterday were presented at 5.30 by Mrs. H. H. Gompertz. Mr. A. J. Plummer, the president of the society in introducing Mrs. Gompertz said that an exhibition of this sort was not staged in a week, a month, or a year even. It represented many years experimenting and much disappointment. On the whole the exhibits were up to the average, if not better than for many years past, and he heartily congratulated all exhibitors on the results attained.

Like all good farmers, he continued, the horticulturist always had a grudge against the weather. It was either too hot or too cold—too dry or too wet, but this year they had a unique grouse, and was on account of the frost which had come at the end of January and was responsible for the spaces on certain of the stalls. The reason for vegetables was generally favourable and there was a record number of entries in this class from the Peak. There was also a special feature this year in the display of ferns by the Government which were not entered for exhibition, and thanks was tendered to them for this aid, and also to Mr. Ho Kum-tong and Mr. Nicholson.

Mr. Ho Fook, who last year won the Challenge Cup outright, had been good enough to present another one for competition amongst the Society's members, a much better cup in fact than he had won, and on the new cup his was the first name to appear. It was hoped that next year competitors would give him a harder fight to retain it.

Thanks also given to Col. Bird and the Officers of the H.K.V.D.C. for the use of the grounds and Drill Hall, to the Police for the regulation and watching of prizes, to the Botanical Gardens for their exhibit, and to all judges and censors who had lent their aid especially those behind the scenes and in particular Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Hornell, and the hardworking Hon. Sec. Mr. E. B. C. Hornell.

The prize giving was something in the nature of a procession for PSYCHOLOGY AND INDUSTRY.

SOCIALISM AND SYNDICALISM.

At the University Great Hall yesterday afternoon Professor John Smith continued his series of lectures on the Application of Psychology and Ethics to Industry. The title of the lecture was "Socialism, Syndicalism and Anarchy."

In his opening the lecturer spoke on profits accruing to capitalists, and took the example of a gramophone manufacturer who made a shilling profit on each instrument sold. If he sold millions, then he was bound, however small the profit on each single article, to make a great deal on the lot. It was so with every contractor on a large scale. In fixing a price for his article to give himself a profit he had to tip the scale in his own favour to make sure he did not trade at a loss. Therefore, the capitalist was really helpless in making profits.

Disraeli and Social Problems. Disraeli when he was young wrote novels which gave very good pictures of commercial and social life in England of the time in which they were written. One of them was Sybil, with the subtitle, a story of two nations. But it was a story of England only, a study of the industrial conditions of 1848, the educated classes being one nation and the workers forming another. Out of the strife that resulted between those two, in all the countries of Europe, there arose three movements, socialism, syndicalism and the workers' co-operative societies. The latter could be left out and socialism was watered down syndicalism. These movements developed, especially abroad, but it was not until 1884 that workers were allowed in France, to meet regularly as trade unions. In England the movement had undergone change due to concessions on the part of employers. In France the movement had been kept down until 1884 and feeling on the matter was very bitter.

Karl Marx. Syndicalism originated in France and there the Syndicalists adopted the teachings of Karl Marx whose doctrine was that there was no wealth, except that derived from the work of the workers, and the theory of the syndicalists was, that all the necessary work of civilized society was performed by the poorer labouring classes, such as lighting, heating, transport, food, housing and clothing.

The result of the movement in France was the formation of labour bureaux over the country, with headquarters in Paris, and France found herself with a state within a state. In 1903 there was a great council at Marseilles, which adopted the Marx creed, and at which it was decided that the ideal way for labour to get justice, was to educate the workers by continual strikes, until labour was as disciplined as an army; until in the end they could declare a general strike to paralyse the services of the nation. At the end of a fortnight, they expected to have the ruling classes surrendering, and would then be able to do as they wished. But for the war something of the sort would have happened, for some such strike was planned for Christmas 1914.

The Case of Russia. Later, commenting on the case of Russia, the lecturer made some interesting remarks. He said there the task of restoring order had been, and was, slow, but that was the price that had to be paid for a Government that was truly democratic. Autocracy meant speedy government. Russia got a better popular representation among her governors but the method of government was slow.

Russia could not be blamed for what had happened, she had obeyed the principles of psychology and those who blockaded her and refused her food and medical help could not be blamed either, because they were merely obeying their psychological principles.

Mr. R. A. Nicholson, Mr. Ho Fook, Mrs. Dyer and Mrs. Ho Kum-tong. When the distribution was completed Mr. A. J. Plummer presented Mrs. Gompertz with a silver vase containing some of Mr. R. A. Nicholson's excellent roses, on behalf of the Society at the same time thanking her for her attendance.

Mrs. Gompertz expressed her thanks and was given three cheers at the call of the President thus putting an end to a very pleasant function.

THE SURPRISE OF THE YEAR

CHARLES DICKENS'

Famous novel becomes "The Perfect Movie"

"OUR MUTUAL FRIEND"

The unexpected in always taking place in the screen world as well as elsewhere. The film version of "Our Mutual Friend" is one of the pictures that should by right of its artistic and entertaining qualities prove one of the biggest attractions of this season. The fact that the picture was produced in England and the cast filled by English actors accounts of course for its real Dickens flavour. Perhaps the impersonation in the present cast that is the "greatest single hit" is the Bella Wilfer of Catherine Remp. Anything more charmingly feminine and lovely than this demure little British actress has not been shown on the screen. The other members of the cast deserve unqualified praise.

STRUGGLE ON WHARF.

SHIP'S GUARD IN TROUBLE.

Before Mr. J. R. Wood, at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, an Indian guard employed on the river steamer Leung Kwong was charged on remand with unlawful possession of a revolver.

Mr. G. J. A. Leask defended.

According to the evidence, the defendant went ashore from the Leung Kwong, which was lying alongside the Chiu On wharf, at 5.20 on the morning of February
28. Before he reached the wharf entrance a Chinese Revenue Officer attempted to search him. The Indian quickly retreated to the steamer. The Revenue Officer followed and overtook him, seizing the waist band of the Indian's overcoat and tearing it. A scuffle ensued, in the course of which the guard flung something into the harbour, which landed with a thud on a sampan lying alongside the wharf. Another Revenue Officer arrived and the defendant was finally overpowered. A Chinese watchman of the Leung Kwong also came on the scene. At the request of the Revenue Officers this man boarded and searched, with the aid of his torch, three sampans tied up to the wharf. The revolver was found on one of the boats. The defendant was taken to the Imo ports and Exports Office, where Chief Preventive Officer Clarke searched him. A large clasp knife was found in his overcoat pocket.The accused was remanded, Mr. Leask reserving his defence.

THE COLONY'S GIFT-MONEY.

General satisfaction will be felt, outside affected circles, by the gift of the Hongkong Government's surplus shipping control funds, or profits, to the Imperial authorities for the Singapore naval-base scheme. Not only has something definite at last been done with the money, but it has gone towards a project which is intended to benefit the whole Empire, and particularly to safeguard British interests in the Pacific, including, of course, the interests, and actual safety, of Hongkong. The matter has inevitably renewed references to the local controversy, concerning the right or otherwise of the Government to prevent ship-owners from bringing claims to a share in the shipping control profits. There are those who will sympathise with the luckless ship-owners, and accuse the Government of being rather free with other people's money, but it will perhaps be just as well if this controversy be permitted decent burial in the midst of the general approval which is felt at the fact that the money from this fund will materially help forward a big Imperial scheme.

It is obvious that the British Government is pushing ahead with the scheme at Singapore, and that all criticisms are to be discounted. The conference of Admirals there is proceeding at a time when Parliament is considering the Budget and the item therein which is to be allocated to the work on the new base. The references to the subject have revived the question of whether or not the scheme is justified, and the old matter of Japanese interest is being dragged forth into the limelight, with its attendant stirring up of bad feeling. It is a great pity that political pettiness should allow other considerations to be over-riden to this extent. The loss said about Japan in the matter the better. There can be no question in any sane mind, whether that mind be possessed by Briton or Japanese, that the Singapore plan is not intended as a menace to Japan. It is, it were, how pitiful an attempt it would be. It is merely a base for our squadrons patrolling the waters in the vicinity, east, west, or south. The only persons who will not see this are those who are deliberately blind. They would be the first to howl were our interests in the outlying parts of the Empire ever menaced and found to be inadequately protected. The so-called Singapore-Japan controversy should also be given decent burial: though perhaps the most effective method of stopping pseudo authoritative pronouncements on Far Eastern matters would be to bury the agitators as well, a fate that would be well deserved were their utterances to lead to suspicions and apprehensions where none had previously existed.

Shop Locally.

Of late there appears to have been an increasing tendency on the part of big retail firms in the United Kingdom, America and France to flood this part of the world with catalogues, circulars and other business literature in the hope of securing orders from a community of exiles. It is possible, of course, that many of these business houses are under the impression that Hongkong is a Colony in which only the bare necessities of life can be secured, and that people who live in it would be likely to jump at the opportunity of securing modern goods from the West. A visit to this Colony would probably surprise such firms, for, thanks to local enterprise, Hongkong folk can nowadays purchase here on the spot the very best that Europe and America have to offer; whilst our principal stores would do credit to many a big city at home. The object of this comment, however, is to stress the desirability of Hongkong people doing their business with Hongkong firms. Shopping by post is more or less unsatisfactory even under the best of conditions; it is immeasurably more risky when the customer and the seller happen to be ten thousand miles or so apart. In the first place, there is the possibility of goods ordered not being according to description; and, secondly, there is little guarantee of quality. Both these risks are overcome when shopping is done locally. Moreover, business enterprise such as that which has given Hongkong such modern stores, with everything that is needed to supply our wants, deserves its due reward; in addition to which, the point must not be lost sight of that the bigger a firm's turnover, the more reasonable are its prices likely to be. These are some of the reasons why Hongkong folk should make a point of patronising Hongkong firms. Besides which there is the additional point that local firms contribute, in taxes and otherwise, to the progress of the Colony, whereas these other concerns do not.

The "Red" Evil.

We have every sympathy with those who condemn revolutionary propaganda in various parts of the Empire, whether the agitators be Communists, Socialists or members of any other advanced school of political thought. The resolution on this subject, just introduced in the House of Commons by Major Geoffrey Peto, is opportune, but we do not know that the Government can be expected to take any unusual action in suppressing the evil. It is, as Lord Winterton says, the British tradition to permit the widest freedom of speech. There is nothing unlawful in the preaching of Communism, or any other "ism" so long as it is not accompanied by violent action, and, as one Labourite puts it, the ordinary process of the law is sufficient to deal with contingencies coming within the latter category. Communist propaganda may be repugnant to most people, but to persecute its advocates would be the surest way of magnifying and intensifying the evil. The Government can afford to allow these agitators to "let off steam" in speech; only when acts subversive to law and order are committed is it necessary to take these folk seriously.

The 11th annual pianoforte recital by Prof. Danonborg's pupils is to be held on Tuesday, 24th March, at the City Hall at 3.30 p.m. Tickets are obtainable at Anderson's at $1 each.

Amongst the passengers who departed by the s.s. Antenor for Shanghai were General and Mrs. Macnaghten, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bone, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Marshall, and Mr. E. C. Hagen.

Amongst the passengers who departed by the Empress of Asia were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Raven, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Priestley, Mr. E. Moller, Mr. A. H. Lay, Mr. A. Camoron, Mr. C. Little and Mr. F. R. Warner.

In the Legislative Council yesterday, the word "Lord" was deleted from the title of the Ordinance for the incorporation of the Lord Bishop of Victoria, it being explained that this designation was not recognised by law except in the case of Bishops sitting in the House of Lords.

A Wobley revolver, of Service pattern, was discovered on a vacant piece of land behind the Kowloon Bowling Green Club yesterday. It had apparently been left to be reclaimed later by someone who was anxious about his personal safety. The weapon has been turned over to the police.

Kut Tin Shoung and his band of magicians and acrobats entertained another large audience at the Theatre Royal last night with a bewildering display of magical turns and acrobatic stunts. Some of the items were quite new to Hongkong and the audience were not sparing in their expression of approbation.

Our Picture Page to-morrow will include photographs of the start and finish of the Kowloon Marathon; groups taken at the weddings of Lieut. C. R. More and Miss Dorothy Rodgers, and of Mr. D. C. Gow and Miss M. R. Eason; a snapshot of the blowing up of houses at Shoklaipui by the Volunteers; a group of the cast of "French Leave"; and a photograph of Boy Scouts at the Peak School.

In the January issue of the Chinese Economic Monthly there are included two very interesting articles, both illustrated, and dealing respectively with paper manufacture in China and with China's pearl trade. The former gives details of the main kinds of paper made in this country—Hsuan (rice straw and tree bark) and Pai Kwan and other varieties (bamboo) which is usually inferior in quality. This monthly is one of the best publications of the kind out here, and has always something most informative to impart.

A VARIED CAREER.

INSPECTOR APPLETON'S RECORD.

As we stated yesterday, Detective Inspector F. Appleton, of the Hongkong Police, departs on well-earned pension by the s.s. Malwa to-morrow.

Inspector Appleton has had over 30 years' continuous service under the Crown, having joined the R.M.L.I. in July, 1894, and first arrived in Hongkong on 8th April, 1896, on board the H.M.S. Narcissus, then one of the cruisers on the China Station. He put in three years and eight months on this Station, and during that period he served in several landing parties. He was one of the Marine Legation Guard at Seoul in 1897; was also the first British sentry to do duty at Wei Hai Wei, and was one of the party of Marines that took over that port from the Japanese in May, 1898. He left Hongkong on his ship on 8th April, 1899, proceeding to the Chatham Headquarters, and when volunteers were wanted for the Hongkong Police he was one of the 40 selected and arrived here on the s.s. Goonfarg on 27th March, 1900. There are now only two more left in the Force out of these 40 men.

During his 25 years' service in the Force, Inspector Appleton has taken part in investigating numerous criminal cases. He was promoted Lance Sergeant in 1904, Sergeant in 1911 and Inspector in 1920. He was first attached to the C.I.D. 1908, until the latter end of 1913, when he went to Cheung Chau where he remained until 1919. He then went on leave and on returning was again appointed to the C.I.D.

One of his most interesting cases (from a police point of view) was the unravelling of the mystery of the murder of a Chinese female in the bath-room of Government House, when, after interviewing 75 witnesses, of whom 40 were called at the Criminal Sessions, the house coolie, Chan Tim, was convicted on circumstantial evidence and later executed.

During the past three years, Inspector Appleton has been in charge of the Chinese Detective Branch of the District Watchmen Force at the S.C.A. and he did a good deal of work behind the scenes in connection with the Seamen's Strike in 1922. During this period he has taken part with District Watchmen in numerous raids resulting in the capture of several gangs of armed men who were about to commit robberies.

Inspector Appleton has had some exciting and also some amusing experiences. One amusing incident worth mentioning happened while he was on a raid after armed robbers at West Point in 1908 with C. D. I. Hanson. He was told off to the roof, which he gained through another house late at night, and Chinese detectives had been also told off to go on the roof of another house. When Inspector Appleton arrived at the trap-door leading to the house which the robbers were said to be concealed in, he saw three Chinese looking down through the trap-door, and, thinking they were detectives who had arrived before him, he went up behind them and said "Are they there?" The Inspector then realised that they were three of the robbers, and he at once seized two of them and forced them down through the trap-door into the arms of the late Inspector Torrett, who had already arrived on the floor. After picking up a stocking which contained part of the stolen property, Inspector Appleton followed the third man and arrested him in the top floor of another house, to which point he had escaped. This gang were all convicted at the Sessions.

HIGHER BANK RATE.

THE REASONS.

London, March 5.

The raising of the bank rate was generally expected after the increase of the New York rate last week, which has caused considerable disorganisation of the money markets. To-day's increase is intended to check the withdrawal of American money from London. This money, though plentiful, now commands higher rates, but it is generally understood that London and New York are closely co-operating, and the fears of unduly high rates in the im-

SPORTS GOSSIP.

AFTER THE LORD MAYOR'S SHOW.

[BY "WANDERER"]

Maybe the natural sequence of events decreed that England should make a hopeless mess of the Fifth Test, after their overwhelming victory in the Fourth. Australia again won the toss but, although Gilligan is reported to have said that the winning of the toss is equal to a gift of 100 runs, the Old Country's most recent disaster can hardly be attributed to this fact. To get Australia out for less than 300 was moribund and there was every opportunity of making the game safe. England, however, found Grimmett's slow too much for them and during the game, he took 11 wickets for 82 runs.

One of the features of the game was the bowling arrangement which placed Gregory at one end and Grimmett at the other. The effect of having a lightning bowler and a slow trundler alternating played havoc with the batsmen, and it is interesting to recall that a similar mode of attack met with similar results after the Armistice when a cricket eleven formed from the Australian Imperial Forces toured England during the summer of 1919 playing all the counties and meeting with their only defeat when they were opposed to the Gentlemen of England at Lord's, the home of the M.C.C. On that occasion the speed merchant was Gregory, and Lampard was the slow bowler. It was while playing with the A.I.F. eleven that Oldfield was discovered to be the wizardly wicket keeper he is.

On their way home, the A.I.F. team visited South Africa incidentally winning every game there, and an interesting incident followed the embarkation of the team on the s.s. "Aeneas"—a troopship engaged in the home-ward transport of Australian troops. The team was still under military discipline and the Colonel commanding was anxious to make the lot of the cricketers as comfortable as possible, recognising that they had been living a life somewhat in contrast to military conditions. Only three of the team were of commissioned rank and military routine therefore demanded that the "rankers" take their place on the troop mess decks. A solution was, however, found by making the non-commissioned players acting Warrant Officers for the remainder of the voyage. The W.O.'s Mess was consequently enlarged, and upon arrival on board, the "Diggers" were told to report to the ship's orderly room where they were handed out "crowns" and solemnly informed that they had been promoted! Gregory, Taylor, Collins, Oldfield and Mailey were members of that team.

One of the doyens of first-class cricket, in the person of C. P. Mead, celebrates his 48th birthday on Monday. Mead is one of the most difficult men in England to get out when once set and he has been one of the mainstays of the Hampshire side for more years than he cares to remember. His best aggregates have been 2,627 in 1913, 2,476 in 1914, 2,562 in 1911, 3,170 in 1921, 2,391 in 1922 and 2,604 in 1923. Three times has he achieved distinction by scoring two centuries in one match, and three times since the war has he hit three successive hundreds. In all, Mead has scored over 80 centuries in first class cricket.

Golf is essentially one of those games where you never can tell, but there were two big surprises at Farning on Sunday when both the presumptive finalists of the Junior Championship received their quietus. J. W. Franks, who has been all through a strong favourite, succumbed on the seventeenth green to H. G. Hogarty, and G. B. Hett went down by the big margin of four and three. A. O. Brown, his opponent, has been right on top form during the past few weeks and if he can only retain it for a little longer, it is not unlikely that he will register his first success.

mediate future are groundless.—Reuter.

mond itself more to the Dominions, while as regards South Africa, it must be remembered that Holland at present was as much interested in the guarantee of those eastern frontiers as any other Power.

Sir John Simon objected to security being linked up with the occupation, and said that unless Germany had seriously violated the treaty we were in Cologne without authority.

The Conservative, Major Morrison Bell, urged the Government to study jealously any agreement that put the British naval and other forces in the place of a pawn.

Mr. Runciman pressed Mr. Chamberlain to state his views on the Protocol. He regretted that Britain had tied her hands by undertaking to support the re-appointment of the present French chairman of the Saar Commission.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN REPLIES.

Mr. Chamberlain, winding up the debate, denied that the Saar could be described as the danger spot of Europe, although he was not prepared to defend all that went on in the Saar administration. As regards the Protocol, Mr. Chamberlain said the three months' deliberations had only just reached a stage where a statement could possibly be made. He was still uncertain as to the form in which the Government decision would best be conveyed, but he expected he would be called on to make an announcement at the next League meeting.

Mr. Chamberlain said he was averse to encouraging the signature of international documents of fundamental importance with a string of separate and discordant reservations by many signatory Powers. It was sometimes necessary to sign with reservations, but it was dangerous to base the charter of world peace on documents with reservations. All indications he had been able to obtain about the state of opinion in other countries which had signed or contemplated signing the Protocol, led to the conclusion that if Britain signed to-morrow without amendment, we should not have settled the question of security. He nevertheless emphasised the British desire for arbitration and disarmament.

Approaching the occupation, Mr. Chamberlain denied that we were surrendering our rights of private judgment, by conferring with the Allies, where it was better and more loyal to confer. "Suppose we walk out of Cologne in order that somebody else, not the Germans, walk in?" asked Mr. Chamberlain. Would that advance an agreement with Germany and the better atmosphere which Liberals desired? Here was a case necessitating agreement, but in default of agreement Britain reserved the right to take any action she thought fit or expedient, according to the circumstances. Mr. Chamberlain was unable to state whether the Allies would agree to a meeting with Germany, but, speaking for himself, he wanted any course giving the best hope, not of prolonging the contest, but of getting satisfaction and bringing the occupation to an end.—(Cheers).—Reuter.

LABOUR TO LODGE PROTEST.

London, March 5.

The Labourites did not return to the House of Commons during the foreign debate, but met and resolved, while deprecating the persistent obstruction of the business, that there was no justification for the "peremptory and arbitrary action of Mr. Hope, the chairman of committees, in naming Mr. Kirkwood's slight interruptions, which in no wise were provocative or disorderly."

The executive subsequently decided to lodge a motion to the effect that Mr. Hope acted with undue haste and impatience, and therefore the naming of Mr. Kirkwood was unwarranted.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald will to-morrow ask the Government for an opportunity to discuss this motion, which will doubtless be granted immediately.—Reuter.

THE GOSPEL IN TIBET.

New ground has been broken during the year by pressing into Tibet from the Chinese frontier, states the Quarterly Record of the National Bible Society of Scotland. Sixty New Testaments and 1000 Gospels have been put into the hands of that people last year in their own spoken language, and funds have been received QUARRY BAY A.D.C.

COMEDY SPLENDIDLY PRESENTED.

"Nothing But The Truth," a comedy in three acts, adapted from the novel of Frederick S. Isham, and produced at the Savoy Theatre in London in 1918 was the third production undertaken by the Quarry Bay A.D.C., and there was a large attendance to witness it at the Talkoo Club on Wednesday evening. The enjoyment of the audience grew enthusiastic as the appeal of the piece became established with the fine handling of the humorous thread in the play.

The story deals with the squabbles of three partners in a stock-broking firm over business ethics, there being a considerable divergence of opinion as to the exact extent to which voracity should be permitted to enter business dealings, until it is decided to try the problem out in a bet. Accordingly the "truth-telling" member of the firm undertook to win $10,000 from the other members on the condition that he would be able to adhere rigidly to his code of honour for the twenty-four hours. It is from the various situations resulting from the fulfilment of this pact that the play gains its chief success. To tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth is shown by the author of the story to be achieved in certain cases only by the sacrifice of personal popularity and social amenities. For the other partners the bet has a boomerang effect. That Bob Bennett, the truth telling partner, manages to win his bet in the end, is due to constant efforts of a nightmarish nature. If telling the truth is the difficult thing it is made out in the play, then Bob Bennett did a remarkable thing indeed.

Those who took part in the performance showed much talent, and an audience would be very difficult indeed to please if it did not derive the fullest enjoyment from the satisfactory manner in which all the roles were carried out. The chief honours of the evening may be equally divided between Mr. R. McArthur Keown, as the "modern" business man, and Mr. W. Robertson as the scrupulous junior. In later stages of the play Mr. Keown excellently portrayed the change of the senior partner from the confident business man to the unhappy husband who finds that his own bet and views have recoiled on his own head as a result of the misunderstanding brought about with a suspicious and jealous wife. In this connection a word of credit is due to Miss Hanson, whose impersonation of Mrs. Ralston was very finely done. Mr. N. M. Campbell, as the other junior partner, Dick Donnelly, fitted into his part in the serio-comic developments ensuing from the bet in a very natural way. Other parts were well sustained by Mrs. G. Gerrard as Gwyn, Mrs. Ralston's daughter; Miss B. Laing as Ethel Clark, Mrs. D. Peoples as Mabel Jackson; Miss Russell as Sahel Jackson; and by Miss B. McCubbin as Martha, the maid.

The play was arranged and produced by Mr. W. Robertson, assisted in scenery by Mr. J. Simpson and Mr. W. E. Price; stage direction by Mr. E. More; and lighting by Mr. M. Wallace. In the intervals between the acts the Ubiquitous Amateur Orchestra played selections under the conductorship of Mr. D. S. Hill.

The whole production was a credit to the Quarry Bay A.D.C., which has shown itself a most energetic and capable body.

"FRENCH LEAVE."

ANOTHER PERFORMANCE.

A special performance of the A.D.C.'s production "French Leave," under the patronage of H.E. the Governor and the Commodore, will be given at the City Hall on Wednesday next at 9.15 p.m. in aid of the Hongkong Benevolent Society. Coupons for advance booking can be obtained from Mrs. Holyoak, 453 The Peak, Mrs. Elliot, 359 The Peak; and the Anderson's Music Store. These must be exchanged for Theatre tickets at Anderson's Music Store on Friday, Saturday and Monday 6th, 7th and 8th March.

TO-DAY'S FASHION.

The little shoulder cape is a feature of this frock that comes from Dame Fashion's Spring collection. The cape is cut with a circular flare and so are the tiers that adorn the front. Black velvet is the material used in combination with black satin for yoke, cape, sash and alternating tiers.

21 YEARS AGO.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES.

The items appearing below are gleaned from the Telegraph files for the week ending March 5th, 1904.—

At the annual meeting of the Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders of Hongkong, held on February 27th, Mr. D. MacDonald, in the chair, said the institution was in a worse financial position than it ever had been since it was established some thirteen years previously, and that if members did not wake up and support it, the time would not be far distant when they would have to wind up, as at present the institution was not self-supporting.—The usual business was transacted at the meeting, which decided to refer to seagoing members the question as to whether marine officers and gentlemen associated with shipping ashore should be admitted as associate members.

The annual report of the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company showed that the balance to credit of Profit and Loss Account, after paying an interim dividend of five per cent. and including $14,481 brought forward, was $215,665. The directors recommended a final dividend of five per cent. and the writing off of various large sums, carrying forward to the following year $28,015.

On March 1st an advertisement appeared showing that a Secretary was wanted for the Mercantile Marine Officers' Association at Shanghai the salary being $180 per month, with free house, light, coal and medical attendance.

During this period Messrs. Wm. Powell, Ltd., advertised various lines, some of the prices quoted being:—Box calf boots, $14.50 per pair; brown glaze boots, $13; black and brown shoes, $6.50; dress shirts, $3 to $7.15; best striped shirts, $4.25.

GYMKHANA CLUB.

At a meeting of racing enthusiasts held on March 1st it was decided to form a Gymkhana Club, and, subject to the consent of the Jockey Club, to hold Gymkhana meetings on the racecourse during the Off Season. Amongst those present were Sir Paul Chater, Messrs. P. C. Potts, G. H. Potts, F. B. Deacon and E. V. D. Farr. It was explained that some years previously there was a Gymkhana Club and that two or three excellent meetings were held, but that it had ceased to exist. The Club was now formally created, Mr. Deacon being elected Hon. Secretary and Treasurer.

On March 2nd, a meeting was held in Sir Paul Chater's office to arrange for the formation of a local Committee to raise fund for

THE BURDEN OF INDIGESTION.

Here are the facts about a real remedy for indigestion—and weakness of the vital organs—that burden which makes life a misery for so many. The remedy is Bismarck Magnesia, a harmless yet effective compound which since its inception, has received the written endorsement of thousands of grateful people in all parts of the world as well as the recommendation of doctors, nurses and hospitals. Bismarck Magnesia stops stomach pain instantly by removing its cause, it is quite inexpensive, and either tablet or powder form can be obtained from any chemist. It is the one sure, sane and safe remedy for those who suffer from indigestion, and stomach weakness, but when buying care should be taken to see that it is "Bismarck" Magnesia, for nothing else will do. The oval "BISMARCK" trademark appears on every genuine package.

The Hongkong and South China branch of the British Medical Association entertained Sir Frederick Treves to dinner at the Hongkong Hotel on March 3rd, Colonel W. E. Webb, R.A.M.C., being in the chair. The gathering included most of the profession in Hongkong, as well as naval and military medical officers.

NEW PEAK TRAMWAY.

On March 5th, there appears a reference to a proposal to build another tramway to the Peak. This states that the line would start from Battery Pathway near its junction with Queen's Road, run up near and past the Public Gardens. Thence on to Glenelg ravine and Queen's Gardens with stations at Cairne Road, Robinson Road, Conduit Road and Queen's Gardens, it being added this would give quick access to all levels and render residents more or less independent of chair coolies. The dollar rate, on demand, on March 5th, was 1s. 10. 5/10d.

CAMERA NEWS

AMERICAN AGAIN.—Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, has filed application for American citizenship, which she had to renounce when she married Major Reginald Owen of the British army. Major Owen is now living at the Bryan home in Florida.

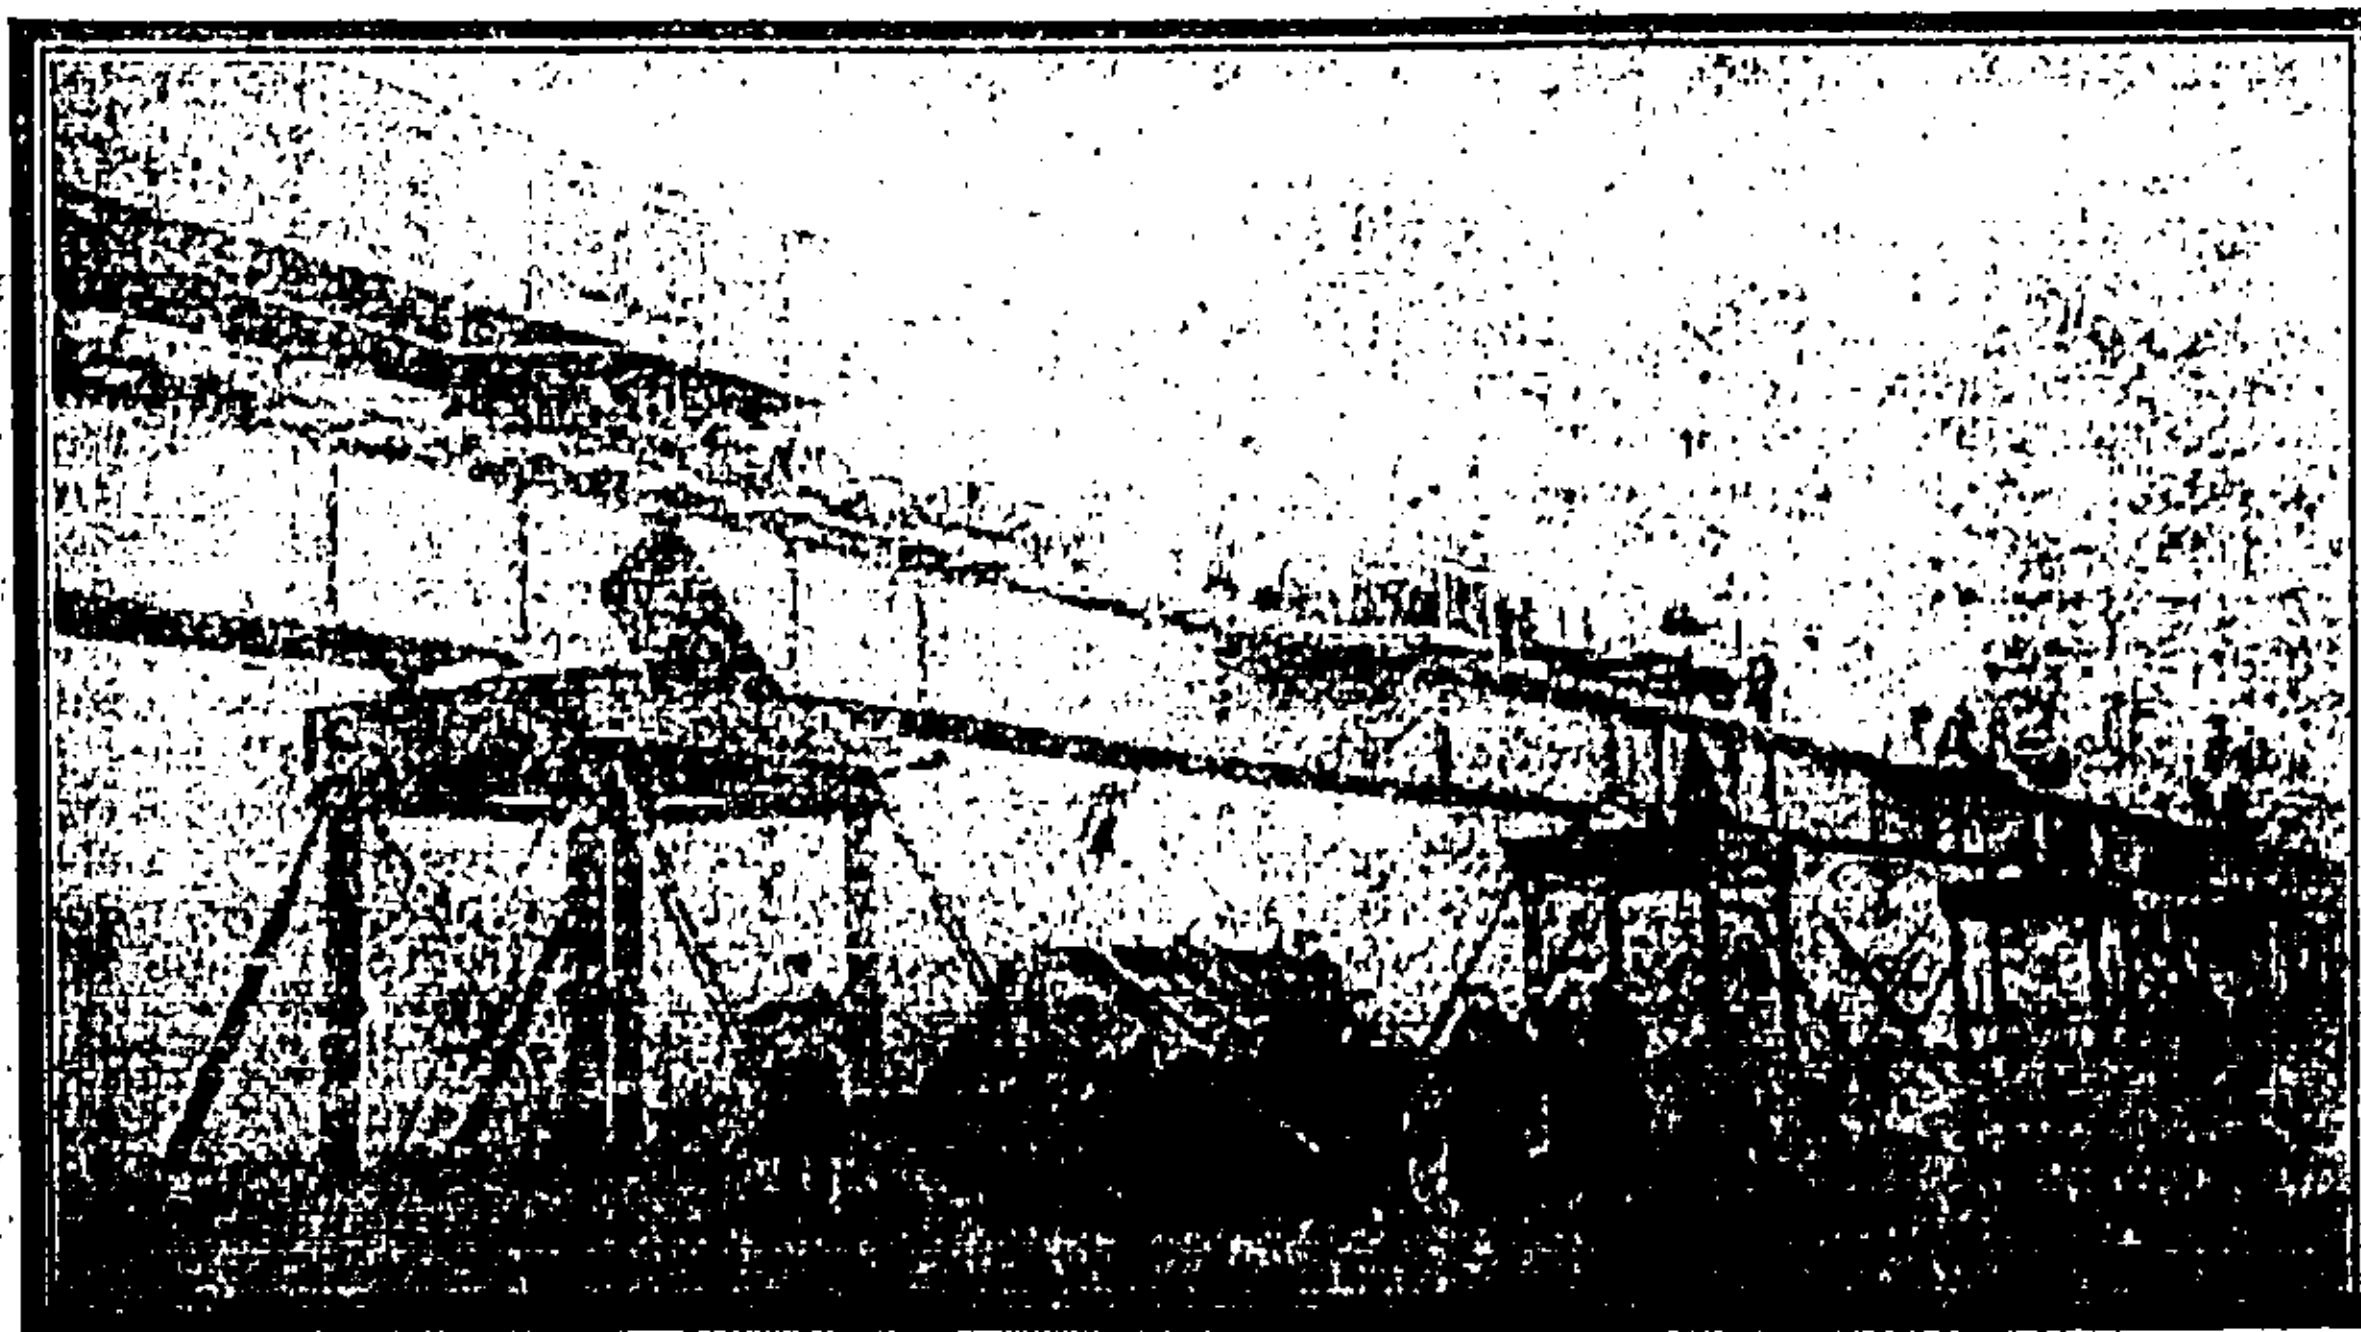

HONOURED.—John Dabney McNabb, son of an American Episcopal clergyman, clad in the uniform of a captain of Kuban Cossacks. The honour was bestowed on him by Baron Wrangell in recognition of his relief work among the Russian refugees in the Crimea and Greece.

STRANGE ACCIDENT.—When a locomotive struck this cabin at Louisville, Ky., it lifted it clear over one gondola car and square on top of another.

SAILORS ENTERTAINED.—The entertainment and dance given under the auspices of the Recreation Committee of the B. W. A. at Headquarters at Shanghai recently was a jolly function. The concert party and jazz band of the H. M. S. Diomedé, who were responsible for the programme, were in excellent form and succeeded in putting on an exceptionally good show. The wives of the staff of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson and Co., Ltd., provided the supper and acted as hostesses. Seated in the first row, after some of the Diomedé officers, are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gill, Mrs. J. T. Pratt, Mrs. H. Yorke Irvine, and Mr. J. T. Pratt, C.M.G. Acting Consul General, who during the evening spoke on behalf of the local fund for the restoration of St. Paul's Cathedral.

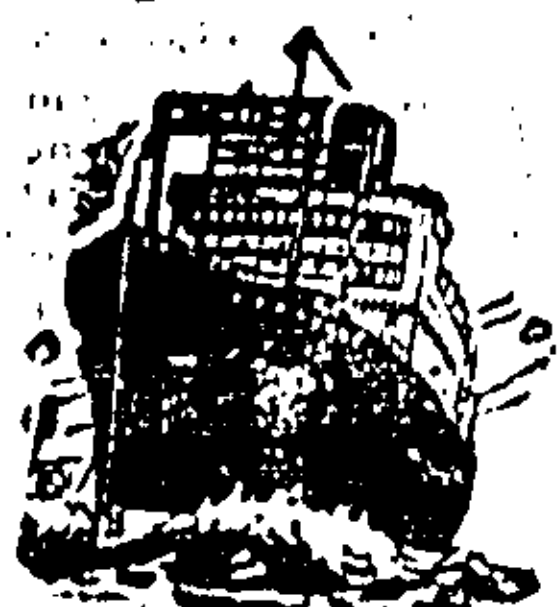

ACCIDENT ON YELLOW RIVER BRIDGE.—This picture shows the scene after the derailment of the Peking-Hankow train on the Yellow River Bridge on the night of January 11. The accident was due to the disconnection of the coupling connecting the seventh and eighth wagons, and the ninth wagon fell into the river.

sums have been withdrawn from circulation to the injury of every section of the community.
"We have the richest mines; we are strong and financially healthy," Sir David continues. "In our struggle for existence we have no desire to injure anybody; but, if uncontrolled production increases and is encouraged further, we must guard the interests of our shareholders and the people of Kimberley, who own £3,750,000 worth of rateable property."
"We may have to put our foot down decidedly and firmly, self-preservation being the first law of nature."
